

Does Jesus have emotions?

Jesus is described as a "man of sorrows and acquainted with grief"[1][2], experiencing deep emotional distress and heaviness of heart[3]. He wept and lamented over those who rejected him[1], and showed great sorrow over Jerusalem's impending destruction[2].

[1] Pratney, W., Hill, S., & Winslow, T. S., eds. (2010). The Revival Study Bible (p. 1824). Genesis Books.

[2] MacArthur, J. (1999). The MacArthur topical Bible: New King James Version (p. 549). Word Publishing.

[3] Kelleman, B. (2018). Grief: Walking with Jesus (D. Reju, Ed.; pp. 61–62). P&R Publishing.