

Why is a one world religion and a one world government a bad thing?

In biblical prophecy, the establishment of a one-world government and religion is viewed negatively because it could lead to a concentration of power under an evil leader—and that is exactly what will happen during The Great Tribulation[1][2]. A unified system is a threat to religious freedom, particularly Jews and Christians[1]. The diversity of nations and languages acts as a check against unrestrained evil, and a single global authority would eliminate these restraints[3]. Historical examples like Stalin and Hitler provide cautionary tales of concentrated power[1]. Modern movements of globalization and ecumenism are precursors to the prophesied one-world government and religious system[2][4].

[1] Rogers, A. (2017). Why We Look for His Coming. In Adrian Rogers Sermon Archive (Re 1:7–8). Rogers Family Trust.

[2] LaHaye, T. (2013). A quick look at the rapture and the second coming (p. 20). Harvest House Publishers.

[3] MacArthur, J. F., Jr. (2014). John MacArthur Sermon Archive. Grace to You.

[4] Mattoon, R. (2002). Treasures from Joshua (p. 288). Rod Mattoon.