

Will I see my miscarried baby in heaven?

God is “the God of all comfort” (2 Co 1:3).

Your child has a soul which lives forever (Ge 1:26, 27) in heaven (2 Sa 12:23, Ac 2:39). He/she is in the presence of Jesus.

The Lord has great love for children (Mt 18:6). The prophet Isaiah said: “a little child shall lead them” (Is 11:6). Perhaps in a way he/she has already led in that you desire more to go to your eternal home (Phil 1:21).

J. Vernon McGee wrote:

...You...may have the assurance of the salvation of your child; it is “safe in the arms of Jesus.” You would be willing to turn over your child to the care of a faithful nurse in this life, and you can rejoice that your little one is in the arms of the Good Shepherd who is more tender than any human nurse. In fact, the little one is better off than if it were asleep in its crib in your home. It is beyond this veil of tears. There is no danger or evil to beset its pathway. We may rest in the confidence that our children are safe with Christ. Remember that when He was here on earth, He took up little ones into His arms, saying, Let little children to come unto me, and forbid them not; for of such is the kingdom of God (Luke 18:16).¹

...The Lord Jesus has gone to prepare a place for those who are His own. Part of this preparation is the taking of your child. Heaven will mean more to you now — your dearest treasure is there. “For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also” (Matthew 6:21). He takes from the family here to form the family there. Baby hands are beckoning to you, and a baby voice is calling you home.

God will care for you (1 Pe 5:7) until you see your child again (Ro 8:28).

¹ McGee, J Vernon. “Death of a Little Child.” Web. 10 Mar 20:
https://www.blueletterbible.org/Comm/mcgee_j_vernon/eBooks/death/death-of-a-little-child.cfm